VisualContainer is happy to present a selection of video artworks by young authors who participated to the third edition of THE SCIENTIST '09 - Videoart International Festival, Ferrara - Italy

The Videoart international festival "The Scientist", now at the fourth edition, by putting together production and art skills and new prospective programming, has allowed the conceptual video and the electronic arts to restart in Ferrara, a well known location for the production and diffusion of videoart.

The festival is managed by the cultural Association "Ferrara Video&Arte" thanks to international curators and partnership; it mainly focuses on video artworks from universities, Art academies and Art colleges that are perfectly aware of the digital language of contemporary video.
